* The availability of the free capacity required by the cable route must first be investigated.  For the planning, route indication and final inspection carried out for the implementation of a cable placement right, a delivery fee is charged that covers the delivery of a route of maximum 500 meters in length. Any extra work, such as the advance inspection of a duct or pipe, is agreed separately.

The fee for leaving the cable in place in connection with placement right is charged case-by-case as separately agreed if the cable cannot be removed from the piping defined in the placement right agreement after the agreement is terminated. For a placement right of more than 3000 meters in length, the fee for leaving the cable in place is processed case by case.
